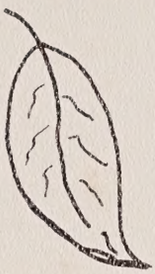
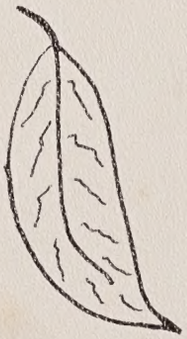
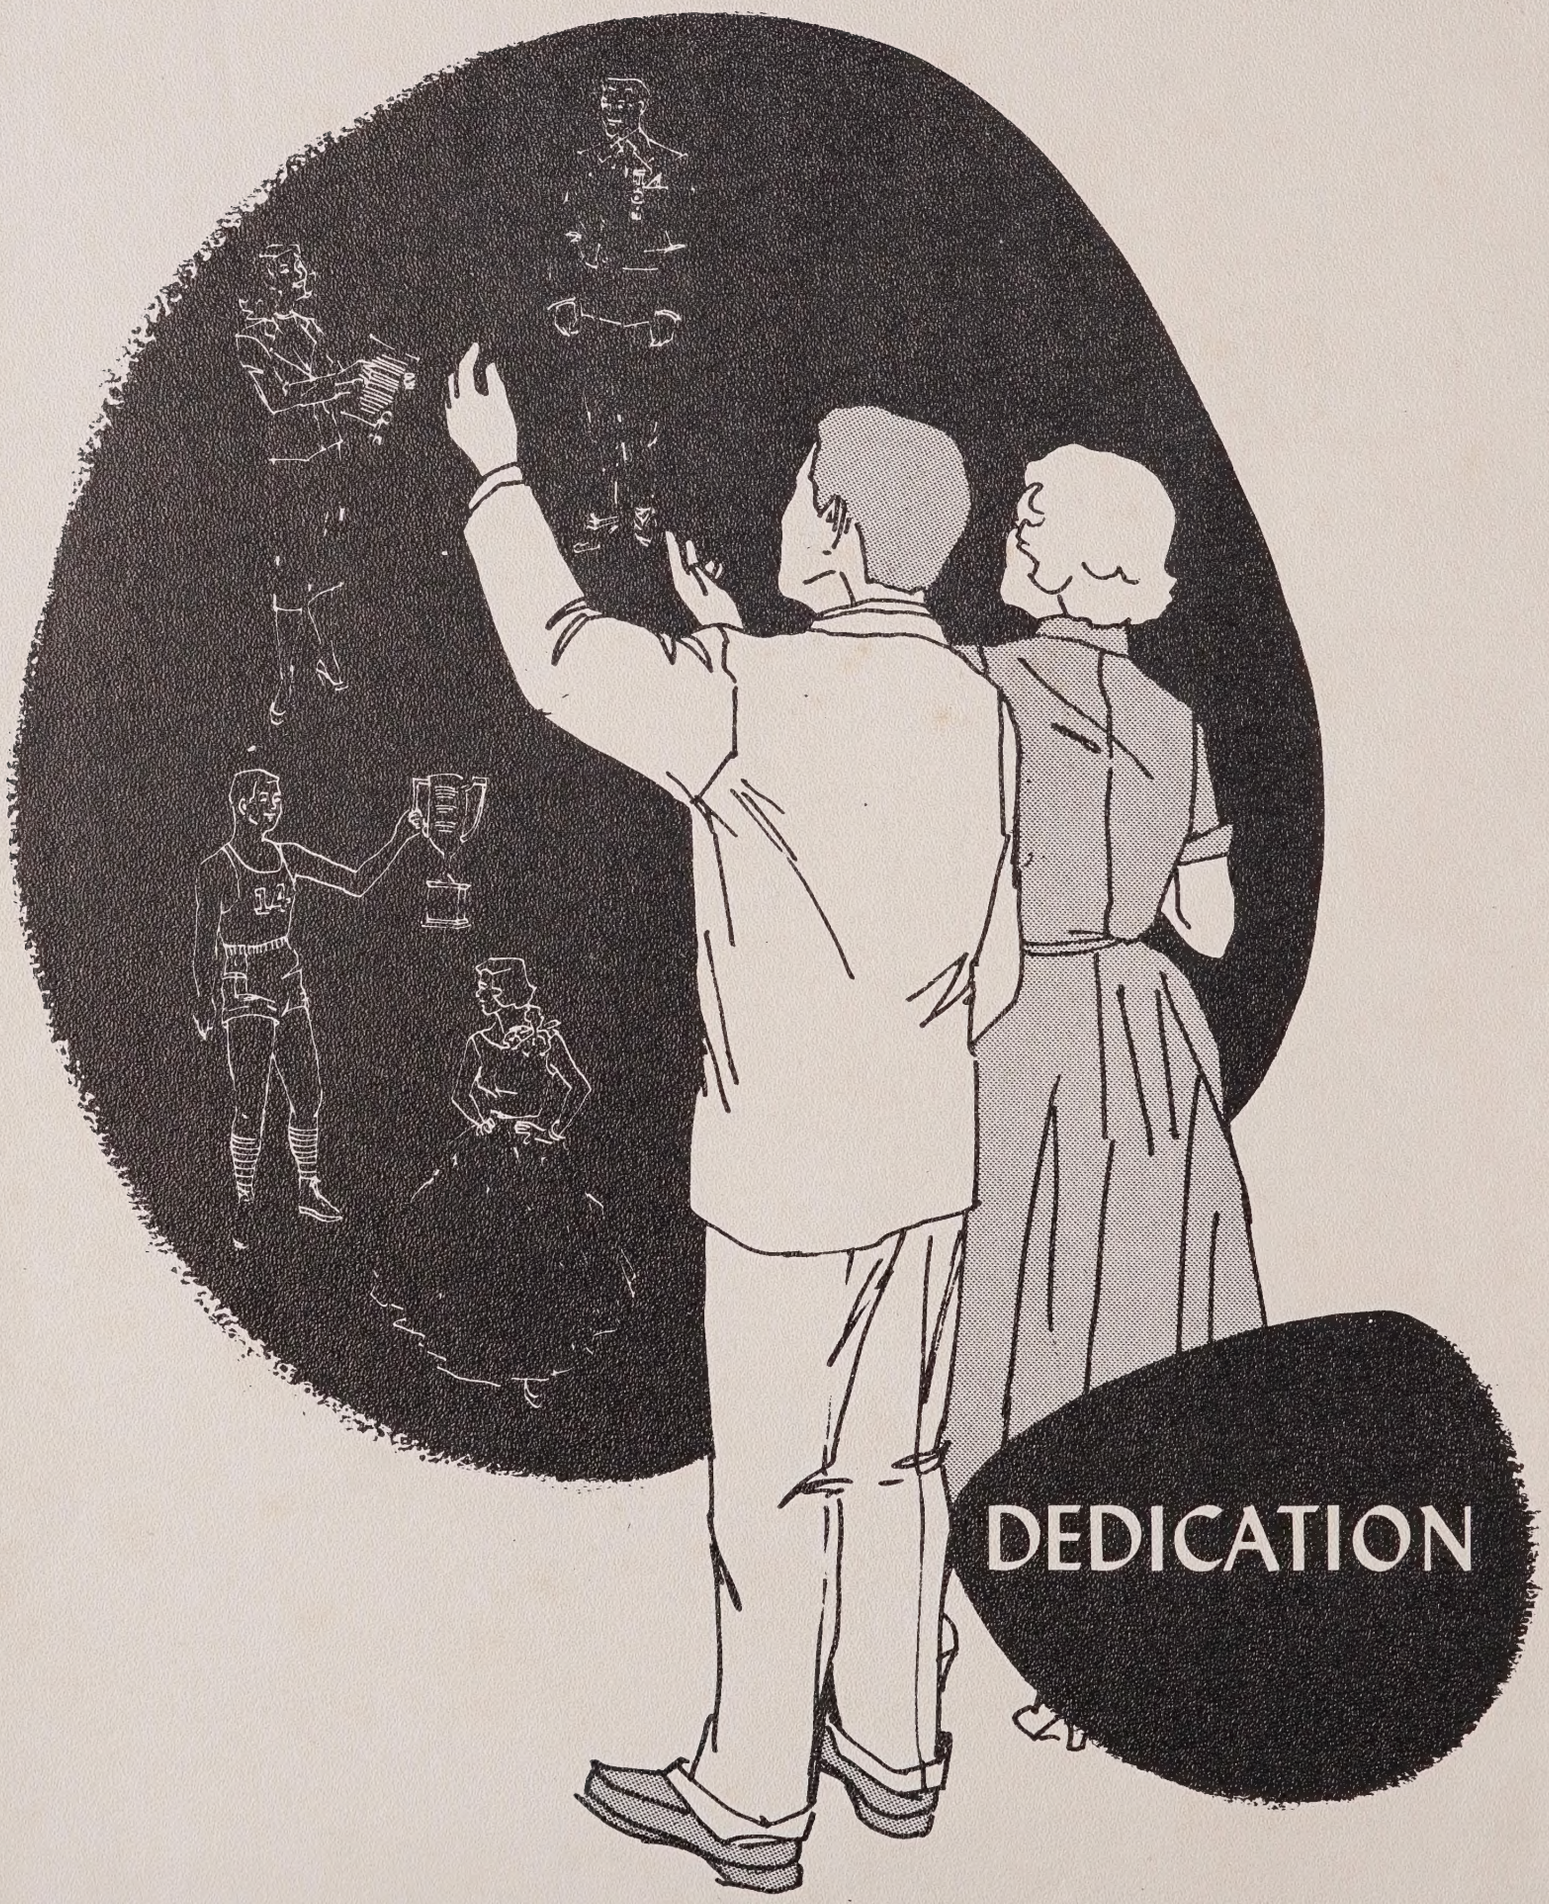
From Falling Leaves to Springtime







DEDICATION

We, the Seniors of 1954 are proud to dedicate this annual to the school and community of Walnut. We pay tribute, not only to the school building itself, but to every teacher that has helped us along the way, and to the community, that has assisted us on the road to success. We knew, as we went through school, that our ideas could be proved or problems settled by turning to a member of the faculty or alumni. As we go through life, we will remember that the community has impressed upon us the importance of improving our school so that students in later years will enjoy going to school to learn and plan for a better future.

Class History

CHAPTER I

As we, the Seniors of '54 come slowly to the end of our school days at Walnut High, our memories return to that day in August, 1950, when thirty-four meek and humble Freshmen trudged into Mr. Frederick McClure's home room. Our instructors our first year in high school, in addition to Mr. McClure, were Mrs. Bernard Brigman and Mr. Fred Anderson, principal. Our enrollment decreased very rapidly this year. Barbara Chandler married Haynes Gosnell and is living in Greenville, Tennessee. Estie Worley enrolled in Valley Springs High School, where she is a member of the graduating class. James Worley is now serving his country in Korea, but he has continued his education in service. Lee Worley is now working in Detroit, Michigan. Herbert Meadows is living on Brush Creek with his wife and two children. Rex Freeman is at home on Anderson Branch. Rex Worley is at home on Brush Creek. Wanda Davis enrolled in Mars Hill High School and is now Mrs. Earle Sprinkle.

CHAPTER II

It was amazing how different things looked when we became Sophomores. We learned a new kind of joy as we found ourselves growing scholastically and socially. We were under the supervision of Mr. Kermit Cody, principal; Mrs. Mary Jo McMillan, Mrs. Epps McClure, Miss Louise McClure, and Mr. Ray Tweed. Betty Jane Bailey and Eugene Thomas were added to our class roll this year. Hazel Jean Worley married Robert Buckner and is living on Big Pine. Margaret Lisenbee married Charles Bolden and is living in West Asheville. Edna June Freeman married Carmon Freeman and is living on Walnut Creek.

CHAPTER III

We Juniors were a building class, within and without our high school world, in preparation for a bigger world, facing us the following year, when we would meet our final task, building and rebuilding, not on the old formula, but with a new blending enriched by the products of experience and experiment--Juniors live by the experience and looking for the method. It was during our Junior year, as we bade farewell to the Seniors of '53, at the annual Junior-Senior banquet, that we realized we would soon take their place. Our teachers were Miss Louise McClure, Mrs. Epps McClure, Mrs. Mary Jo McMillan, Mrs. Pauline Zimmerman, and Mr. Ralph Neill, principal. This year we lost David Searcy, who enrolled in Weaverville High School and June Roberts, who became Mrs. Noah Martin and is living in Barnardsville.

CHAPTER IV

Now, as twenty-four not-so-meek but perhaps humbler Seniors prepare to conclude our days at dear old Walnut High, our thoughts not only go back to that August in 1950 but into the future to Augusts to come. We have lost two members this year--Joan Thomas, who has become Mrs. Bernard Farmer and is living in Barnard and Eugene Thomas, who is in the army. Jim Ledford, a former resident of Goodells, Michigan, has joined us. We have been under the very capable supervision of Mrs. Epps McClure, Mrs. Hettie B. Rice, Mr. Glen Painter, Mr. Jon Buckner and Mr. Ralph Neill, principal. There is no adequate way in which we can express our gratitude toward our school, our teachers and our community for having contributed so much to our lives. In gratitude, we are dedicating this publication, Walnut, Home of the Panthers, to the school and community.

Class Prophecy

One day in physics class as I was looking around the room I began to wonder if my classmates would ever reach their high ambitions. As the teacher's voice faded away I found myself in a large city and was looking up at a sign that said "Eat at Goldsmith's." I went in and saw two of my old classmates, Edith and Betty Jo Goldsmith. They owned the restaurant and were doing well. We left their place and went down the street, and there we saw that the cop on the beat was Lewis Plemmons, another one of our classmates. After he had greeted us he told us that R. J. Plemmons was taking a tour around the world. Then the scene changed and I was on a fast plane. It was no surprise to me to find Lawton Goforth in the pilot seat, because that had always been his ambition. He told me that his co-pilot was Elbert Smith, they were still sticking close together as usual. Sitting across from me was Carolyn Freeman. She was on her way to Hollywood to design costumes for a new movie. It was a musical starring Mary Jo Massey and Thelma Worley. Again the scene changed and I found myself in a large football stadium. There was a professional game in action. As I looked at the players I saw two of them were two of my old classmates, Ray Boswell and Carl Ramsey. It was about the half time so I waited to see the band perform, coming out on the field as the leading majorette was Betty Lou Dockery. After the ball game as I was going out the gate two tall Air Force Majors tapped me on the shoulder. It was Herbert Thomas and Carl Buckner. They had joined together and liked it very much. I asked them to go along with me to see some more of my classmates. We went up a hill to a row of pretty white houses. We knocked on the door and Betty Jane Bailey came to the door. She was happily married with four children. She told us that Shirley Roberts had gotten married and lived down the street from her. The scene changed once more and I was in a large bank, sitting in the president's chair was James Rice. He invited us to look around. He told us that Jim Ledford was vice-president and was out of town on vacation. From James we learned that Hazel Randall and Deloris Fortner was working in the Insurance Department. As we started to leave we met two more of our old pals, Eileen Massey and Geneva Randall. They had come to draw out some of their "millions of dollars." They greeted us and told me that Christine Thomas had gone overseas as a missionary. My dreaming was then interrupted by Mrs. McClure tapping me on the shoulder to wake me up. I had slept the whole physics class and now I would be late for geography class. Poor me!

Ruth Johnston
Class Prophet

"The Upset of The Year" -- by George Reeves

That memorable night in October
'Twas the year of '53
At the island we all gathered
To see what we would see.

To the game we all did come
Farmers, doctors, merchants, dancers,
The foes-Marshall's Red Tornadoes
And the Walnut Purple Panthers.

The whistle blew, the game was on
The ball was in the air,
We settled down to watch and see
How both the teams would fare.

The Walnut Panthers struck again
The great Red line was smashed
The Purple warriors went on through
Across the goal they dashed.

They charged into the Marshall Red
Their power they didn't hide,
They ripped into their tiring foe
They would not be denied.

Marshall's boys are a fearsome lot
Fight and courage they have enough,
But on that night, the howling wind
Was changed to just a little puff!

Grumbles

Now we have come to our last few days of school. These are some of the grumbles that we wanted to get off our chest before leaving, and this is a pretty good time.

Betty Lou.....Typing and not enough furloughs in the Army.
Mary Jo.....Not having Mr. Painter all four years of high school.
Carl B. ..... Lessons, school, and girls.
Buddy.....Where are all those Senior privileges?
Elbert..... English, and too far to Cedar Hill.
Edith.....Physics, and not hearing from Russell.
Carl R. .....Being accused of everything and school.
Herbert.....English, and not enough time to practice ball.
Betty Jane.....Cline not finishing school with me.
Thelma.....Grumbling people.
James.....Too many classes, and not enough study halls.
Lawton..... Car trouble and women trouble.
Ruth..... Errors in typing, and my nickname "Nub."
R. J. .....Too many friends that are not friends at all.
Lewis.....Our boring English Class, and finishing school.
Geneva.....Too much hard work and not enough leisure time.
Christine..... All work and no fun.
Delores.....Week ends too short and the Army.
Betty Jo..... Not living on Brush Creek, and people thinking I'm conceited.
Shirley.....George graduated last year!!
Eileen..... Only four years of high school.
Hazel..... Boys, and hard lessons.
Carolyn..... Not being in physics class, and not getting to go to school at Ben Lippen.
Jim..... Not enough hunting time.

Then suddenly from many throats
A mighty yell was upward sent,
The Purple Panthers were on the march
The foe's defenses had been rent.

The Reds struck back with savage thrusts
As now they had the ball,
The tide of battle, it had changed
The score was seven-all.

Then all at once with lightning speed
The Reds had trouble-plenty,
Their pass was intercepted, and
The ball was on their twenty.

To pick a star on either team
It was impossible to say who,
Both teams fought as one for all
And twenty-two as two.

Both the teams, they came to win
They came to do or die,
But it was little Walnut who did the do
Great Marshall did the die.

When the Dodgers lost the series,
Oh, the gloom that hit the nation,
But that despair compared to Marshall's
Was like a New Year's celebration.

The next day, Saturday, and on Main Street
There was an absence of mankind,
For it was still remembered that at the end
Mighty Marshall was still behind!!

Yesterday, Today and (? Tomorrow ?)

Now as we, the Seniors of '54, at last,
Look back to the struggles and strifes of the past,
Find that the burdens we thought too heavy to bear
Were lessened by our teachers' kindness, patience, and care.

We were a frightened little group when we started to school.
We learned and learned; we grew and grew.
Now that our school days are almost through,
It's "good-bye" to the old life;
"hello" to the new.

Opportunity awaits us on every corner of the street.
Let us not be foolish and miss the chances of life we meet.
Some will climb high the ladder of success,
Then some will just do the average--best.

No matter the road in life we lead,
We'll always remember Walnut High for guidance and need.
Our paths uncertain; the future at stake
It's our life to leave or to make.

So now as we journey on down life's path,
We'll carry our heavy load till the last.
As we bid you one and all "Farewell"
How much we'll miss Walnut High, words can never tell.

Class Will

I, James Rice, will Ruth Johnston to Robert Reeves and my string to Russell Thomas.

I, Thelma Worley, will nothing, because I need all of my possessions more than anyone else possibly would.

I, Jimmy Ledford, will my knowledge of physics to Russell Thomas and my hunting clothes to Louise Goldsmith.

I, Christine Thomas, will my English grades to my sister Emma and my bashfulness to Joan Hollifield.

I, Delores Fortner, will all my boy friends, except one to anyone who wants them and my slimness to my sister, Leola.

I, Ray Boswell, will my athletic ability to Ross Ramsey and my debts to Ralph Helton.

I, Carl Buckner, will my car and girl trouble to Don Henderson.

I, Shirley Roberts, will my position as Beta president to Ruth Anne Tweed, my physics grades to Robert Reeves, and all my friends, except Eileen and George, to Catherine Allen.

I, Eileen Massey, will my position as a Beta member to Paula Roberts and my good grades to Joan Hollifield.

I, Geneva Randall, will a portion of my weight to Walteen Anderson and my blue eyes to Louise Norton.

I, Betty J. Goldsmith, will my typing ability to Christine Barnett and Lela Norton, and my ability to get along with the teachers to my brother William.

I, Edith Goldsmith, will my athletic ability to Louise Goldsmith, my slimness to Patsy Thomas, and my interest in Betty Jo to David Treadway.

I, Ruth Johnston, will my athletic ability to Judy Henderson, my nickname "NUB" to Alfred Shelton and Dedrick Lunsford, and my seat in Coach Painter's class to Pansy Cody.

I, Elbert Smith, will my ability to lay out of school to Cline Roberts, my position as center to Ross Ramsey.

I, Carl Ramsey, will my hair to Gene Freeman, Dedrick Lunsford, and Alfred Shelton, and my love to all the Walnut girls.

I, Mary Jo Massey, will my ability to grow up to Mary Sue Shelton, a portion of my weight to Cassie Ramsey, and my hair to Patsy Thomas.

I, Betty Jane Bailey, will my heart to Cline Roberts, my good grades to Sue Ollie Cook, and my position as a cheerleader to anyone who wants it.

I, Hazel Randall, will my title as Miss Walnut High to Miriam Ledford, my Beta position to Helen Sawyer, and my boy friends to Emma J. Allen.

I, Lawton Goforth, will my RADAR screen to Alfred Shelton and my good looks to Dedrick Lunsford.

I, Carolyn Freeman, will my meanness to my sister Barbara and nickname "Sophie" to Joan Hollifield.

I, Betty Lou Dockery, will my position as captain of the cheerleaders to Ruth Anne Tweed, my ambition to finish school to Pansy Cody, and my nickname "Shod" to Gertrude Allen.

I, R. J. Plemmons will my ability to get along with Mrs. McClure to Frank Cantrell and my fishing equipment to Ross Ramsey.

I, Herbert Thomas, will my curly hair to Ross Ramsey and my ability to play tackle to Homer Bullman.

We, the Senior Class, will Mrs. McClure and our home room to the Juniors, our good times in physics to the Sophomores, and our ambition to finish school to the Freshmen.

"May God Be With You, Dear School"

(Tune To - Vaya Con Dios)
-With Apologies To The Author-

Now time is drawing near, we'll soon be leaving,
As we bid you all farewell O' how we're grieving--
Please don't forget us, Dear Walnut,
We can't forget you, Our School.
As we go down life's long road of joy and sorrow,
Precious mem-o-ries of you we'll often borrow---
To help us along life's dark pathway,
And guide us the rest of our days.

Wherever we may go, please never doubt us,
We know that many trying times may be--
With smiling faces we will greet the future,
And we'll have faith and trust so all
The whole wide world can see--
That we're trying, yet we're crying
Dear Ole Walnut-
How we hate to leave our school and teachers dear--
Oh, how we'll miss you, Dear Walnut,
Never forget you Our School.

Now that we must go away, classes completed,
We hope we'll be forgiven if we've sometimes cheated--
For our silly ways, we just can't help them,
We'll try to please in future days.
How we'll miss the chiming bells for changing classes,
And each dear classmate, but as time passes--
"Vaya Con Dios, Dear Walnut,"
May God be with you, Our School.

CLASS COLORS

We, the Senior Class of 1954, have chosen pink and white as our class colors.

White symbolizes purity and peace. As we enter a world of war and strife, may we always strive to work and to live by these principles.

Pink is symbolic of a state of perfection. We realize we are far from this state, but it shall always be our goal, in whatever we attempt.

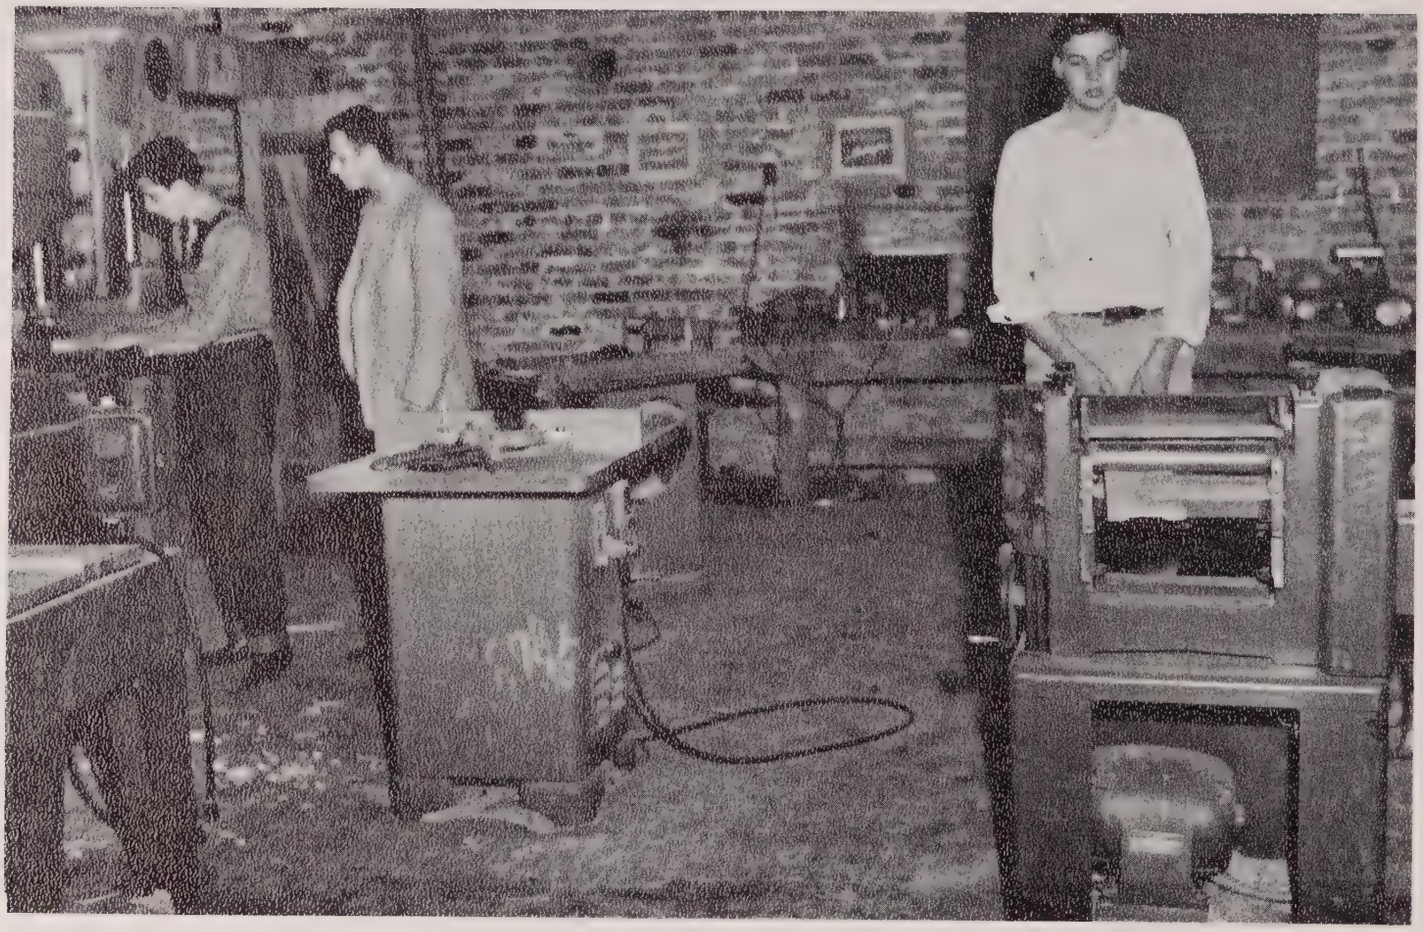
CLASS MOTTO

We have chosen "If We Are Wise We Will Prepare For The Worst" as our class motto. After twelve years of preparing for our future, we hope we will be able to meet whatever challenge is in store for us. It may not be the best, nor may it be the worst, but we feel we have been wise in preparing for the worst.

CLASS FLOWER

We have chosen pink and white roses as our class flower. The rose signifies fragrance, loveliness and endurance. What better symbol could we have selected to stand with purity, peace, and perfection.

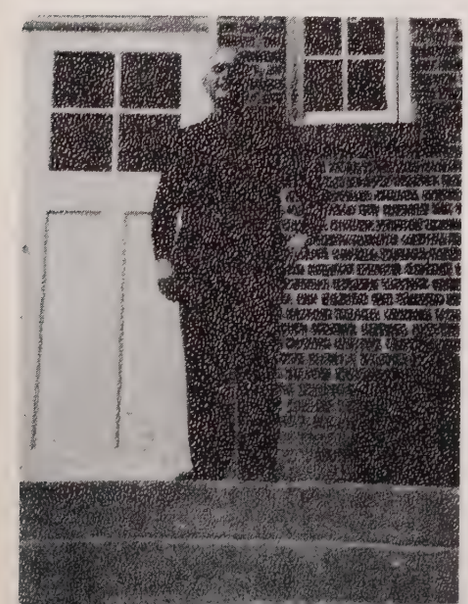
Work Shop (Instructor) Mr. Williams



When a rough board comes into the shop, the first operation is to dress, or plane it. This is done with the planer, the machine Joe is using. It can then be ripped to any desired width and cut to any length with either of two machines, the radial-arm saw (a portion of which is at the lower corner of the picture) or the tilting saw just behind Mr. Williams. The machine Alfred is using is a hand saw and is used for sawing short angles or circles.

Other machines and their uses are: Lathe-used for turning round items such as table legs, ball bats, etc. Shaper-used for making tongue and groove and molding. Drill Press-drilling wood and metal. Electric Welder and Acetylene Welder-welding metal. Scroll (or jig) saw for sawing circles and sharp angles in thin material. Table Sander-used for smoothing the surface.

MR. DOYLE HENDERSON



Mr. Henderson has been driving the school bus to and from the Walnut High School for the past 18 years without a wreck.

ATHLETICS

THIRD ROW: Bruce Roberts, Herbert Thomas, Robert Reeves, Lewis Plemmons, Boyce Ramsey, Coach Glenn Painter, Russel Thomas, Ross Ramsey, Charles Lunsford, Lewis Shelton, Don Henderson.

August the first found the Walnut High Panthers ready for the action of football. Before opening game the squad elected Carl Ramsey and Buddy Boswell as Captains. This started the roar of football. With Coach Glenn Painter and the Panthers underway, "Little Walnut" came through shouting with the "Madison County Championship," which was the upset of the year '53. This made it a very successful football season.
